A PLAY
IN THREE ACTS

EDITED BY KAYE GATLIN

A play in three acts is the theme of our annual. It was produced by the Student Body, directed by the Faculty, and you were the cast. In an effort to give you a record of memories, we present you the 1959 STAR—your play and program. We sincerely hope you enjoy it as much as you did the play.

Miss Nannie Mae Roney

- ★ For loyalty to Henderson and its ideals;
- ★ For the love and kindness with which she meets each individual;
- ★ For making the individual show his worth;
- ★ For her unceasing effort to teach young to meet the changing world about us;

For and because of these things, we the annual staff dedicate the 1959 STAR to Miss Nannie Mae Roney.

In Memoriam

In memory of Mrs. Fleta Russell, associate professor of education and director of the reading clinic at Henderson from 1945 until 1958, who died on September 22, 1953.

To say she will not be missed, we cannot. For with her loving smile and tender way, she made each day shine brighter.

In Recognition

In recognition of Dr. William Ritchie, whose retirement after twenty-three years at Henderson, was a great loss. For your untiring efforts to bring education to young minds and laughter to our hearts, we thank you.

In Memoriam

"Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God."

—St. Matthew 5:8

With lasting love and devotion, we, the 1959 STAR Staff, dedicate this page to the memory of Glenda Zimmerman and Jim Barrett, who were killed in an automobile accident February 26, 1959. We feel it is a small measure, for the memory of these two freshmen will fill much more than a page in our hearts.

THE PLAY

"All the school is a stage and
All the students and instructors are merely players . . ."

ACT I: Autumn

"Twas Autumn, and the leaves were dry, and rustled on the ground; and chilly winds went whistling by with low and pensive sound."—Major Jack Downing.

The quietness of night clings serenely about College Hall. Summer is gone; and with the dawn comes chaos called freshman orientation.

Yes, Betty Pat Etchison found registration confusing. Henry Cagle (top) tries hard to straighten her out. "Every car must have a license, Betty Pat."

Betty Pat sighs to herself, "What a relief! The final checkout!"

SCENE I:

The curtain rises as the overture fades. As the play begins the time is September and the scene is Henderson campus. For newborn Reddies—the Freshmen, it was a period of awakening, merriment, confusion, and enchantment. For old Reddies—it was time to see old friends, and make new ones. The Reddie Spirit was in the air as the play began. Orientation, registration and classes—here was the first conflict. But the month was spiced with parties, mixers and pep rallies. It began in just this way.

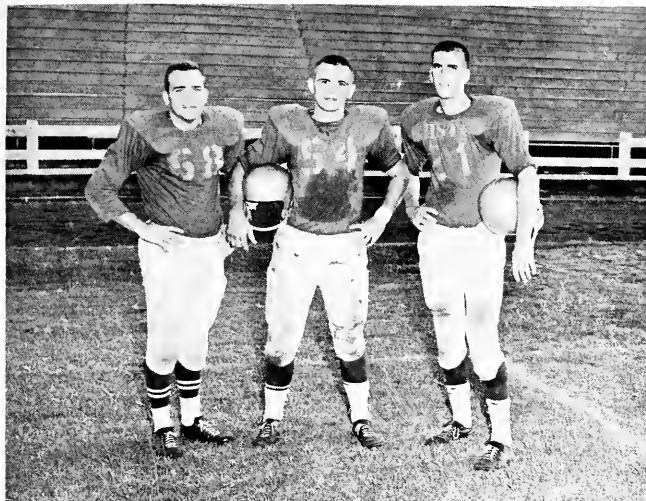

"Disgusting isn't the word for it!" says Gary Sullivan as the Henderson boys spread a little "Reddie Spirit."

Julia Duckett and Marion Neal display that "Old Reddie Spirit" as they try out for cheerleader.

Jimmy Baker, Ralph McLean, and Don Bulloch played their last game for the Henderson Reddies this season.

The Reddie Cheerleaders get into the swing again with a pep rally. Once again they reflect that good old Reddie Spirit with a few yells, a cartwheel, and a loud cry for that "Dear Old Alma Mater."

Almost like magic, the bobby sox disappear and through the glittering of rhinestones and the rustling of full dresses we catch a quite different glimpse of these Hendersonians. Here they blossom out once more to the tune of "Rock and Roll" at the Freshman Dance.

Ballad Singer, Guy Carawan, entertains an assembly.

The Alpha Tau's awaiting the arrival of more new pledges.

The line-up: Voniece Webb, Pat Bridges, Nancy Pate, Judy Coker, Glynda Allison, Mary Taylor, and Lynda Smith, Alpha Tau's pledges.

SCENE II:

The play progressed and soon it was October. This was filled to the brim with activity. The plot thickened as rush began. There were parties planned and given by each sorority and fraternity. The beauties were chosen. Linda Brashears was chosen Homecoming Queen. A major scene was the Phi Lambda Chi Harvest Ball. Then there were the meetings to attend and Homecoming floats to be made.

Vicki McDonald and Pat Bridges
at the Queen of Stars judging.

Don Lloyd and Ray Tucker steal the show with Mickey Mouse Ears.

THE MALE ANIMAL
This was one of the plays presented by the speech department.

SCENE III:

Then came November and Homecoming. It was a fun-filled month as the Student Body turned all out for the festivities. The football season was in full swing. The winds began to blow winter, and Thanksgiving brought us a holiday. Henderson took its honors in the AIC. And then there were nine weeks' tests when we slept days and went to school nights.

The Football Players who received their blankets.

Jim Baker receives double award from cheerleader Lynda Smith.

ACT 11: Winter

"An elegant sufficiency, content, retirement, rural quiet, friendship, books."

SCENE I:

December was by no means uneventful. The cast brought us a delightful interlude as the Freshmen played the Upperclassmen in the "Soup Bowl." The snow was six inches deep, but they played anyway. The Madrigal Operetta "Amahl and the Night Visitors" was another high point. There were a series of dances, the Kappa Sigma Kappa Formal, also the Independent Student Dance and an all-school dance. Then it was Christmas, and home for everyone.

Theater-in-the-Round Production shows John Parsons and Irene Thornton.

The Delta Zeta pledges plan a Christmas party.

Freshman Soup Bowl Royalty bravely battled the snow.

Pat Bridges reigned over the Upper-classman Studs.

Mae Voegel taught the meaning of Christmas to her first grade students.

Marion Neal sings on Freshman Talent Assembly.

SCENE II:

One by one they came with their bags of gifts and adventures to tell. This was a busy month, especially for the STAR staff, who took tests and put out a deadline. We felt one more semester slip by and registration time come around again. The cast felt that overwhelming feeling of being surrounded. But, it passed away . . .

Carleen Harris, Senior President, gets pie thrown in her face on March of Dimes Assembly.

The cast of "Time Limit" rehearse for the final production.

Margaret Boschetti and Cathy Crews studied for their finals.

A last-minute chore by Donna Kinard.

And every Wednesday they marched.

Rayma Johnson received a teacher's scholarship from Miss Amy Jean Greene.

Mr. Robert Sunkel and Mr. Willard Carpenter displayed their paintings in Arkansas Hall.

SCENE III:

February brought the last of the really cold weather. Here we felt the spirit reign high as the Greek girls gave us the annual Panhellenic dance. All turned out in their gayest party clothes. We had a contest for best dressed girl to compete in the National competition. Pretty Miss Vicki McDonald took the honors. Betty Hall, Delta Zeta, and Bill Thompson were elected King and Queen of Hearts. As we finished out the scene the Speech Department presented "The Hasty Heart."

Esther Clark was one of the ten girls to compete for best dressed girl on the campus.

"The Hasty Heart" was presented by the Speech Department.

The Panhellenic dance was held February 14. Cathy Crews and Floyd Yeats were among the Greeks who attended the ball.

Jimmy Ford and his Rock and Roll band provided music for the Panhellenic Formal.

February seemed to leave time for those dorm "bull sessions."

ACT III: Spring

"Spring, with her golden suns and silver rain, is with us once again."—Timrod

Ellen Ohls and Joe Herzog were among the hundreds who danced gaily to the music of the "Down Beats" at the Military Ball.

SCENE I:

March brought brisk breezes, promises of spring, and much excitement. We had the Military Ball—Pat Greenwood, Military Sponsor, was introduced. The Phi Sigma Epsilons came on the scene with their annual formal. Tryouts began for "Oedipus Rex." It took us all by surprise when we realized the time had come for nine weeks tests.

Freddie Glaze "clowned it up" to the tune of rock and roll at the Phi Sig Starlite formal.

Minds turned from classes to . . .

Lovely Donna McCray was among the music majors to present recitals. She also sang beautifully.

Phi Lambs, Bill Andrews and Wray Boyd and their dates were among the guests who enjoyed the Phi Sig dance.

Curtis Atkinson and Buddy Tatum were all up in arms as the last deadline for the annual rolled around. But, they did it. Thanks, boys.

SCENE II:

Spring fever got into the act and the campus was bustling with activity. There were Sunday afternoon picnics at the bluff, and car-loads of students heading for long country drives. The Sigma Tau Gamma's had their annual White Rose formal. The Kappa Sigma Kappa's had their annual Iris banquet in Hot Springs.

And the seniors began to look forward to the day when they would see the world with a college degree in their hand.

Our photographer found these feet quite interesting. Do you?

Cathy Crews, Rosemary Switzer, and Margaret Boschetti study for a Humanities test.

A day's parade on Haygood Field is a common sight in the spring.

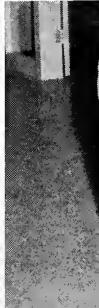

Lyla Brown, who was sponsored by Alpha Sigma Tau Sorority, was Reddie Day Queen.

SCENE III:

The climax brings May. The sororities and fraternities went to Hot Springs for their annual weekend parties. The Abnormal Psychology classes made a field trip to Dallas. As May went on, the students gathered for their last production . . . Reddie Day. All sororities, fraternities and the Independent students participated in competition for best skit and singing. With mixed emotions, we saw our friends . . . the seniors pack and prepare to enter a wider world. For the rest of us, it was another semester exam period and summer vacation. These things climaxed our play—the ending sad and happy, but all things must end.

Lyla Brown, Reddie Day Queen, poses with her court for photographer.

Dr. D. D. McBrien welcomed visiting high schools to Reddie Day.

A common illness called "Unionitis" was the result of spring fever.

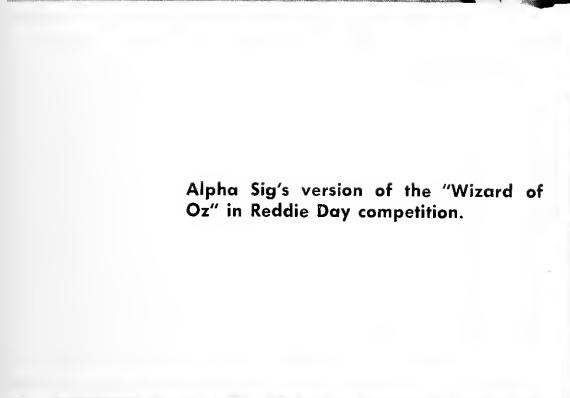

Visitors to Reddieland register in the Student Union preceding Reddie Day activities.

Last minute preparation before the big date.

Delta Zeta's put their best foot forward.

Alpha Sig's version of the "Wizard of Oz" in Reddie Day competition.

Seniors don their caps and gowns to attend their last assembly as Reddies.

The Play is over . . . and once again
Night draws its silent curtain on another year.

SETTING

This is the Setting . . .

ARKANSAS HALL . . . The center for the intellectual play. It houses the Huie library, Henderson Museum, and the auditorium. This air-conditioned library has approximately 40,000 books and 1,279 records. The reading room is equipped to seat 180 students and has seven listening rooms. One of the most outstanding features of the library is open stacks in which the students may browse. The record collection is fitted for all tastes. Staffed with three trained librarians and nine student assistants, the library is very adequate for our needs.

Here you will find the actors surrounded with the most classic setting of the best in literature, books, and historical facts.

COLLEGE HALL . . . Here the scenes are masterminded by the directors within the walls of the tradition-filled building. We find the essence of what creates a true Henderson; it is that honor and pride that separates the amateur from the professional; the success from the show that folds.

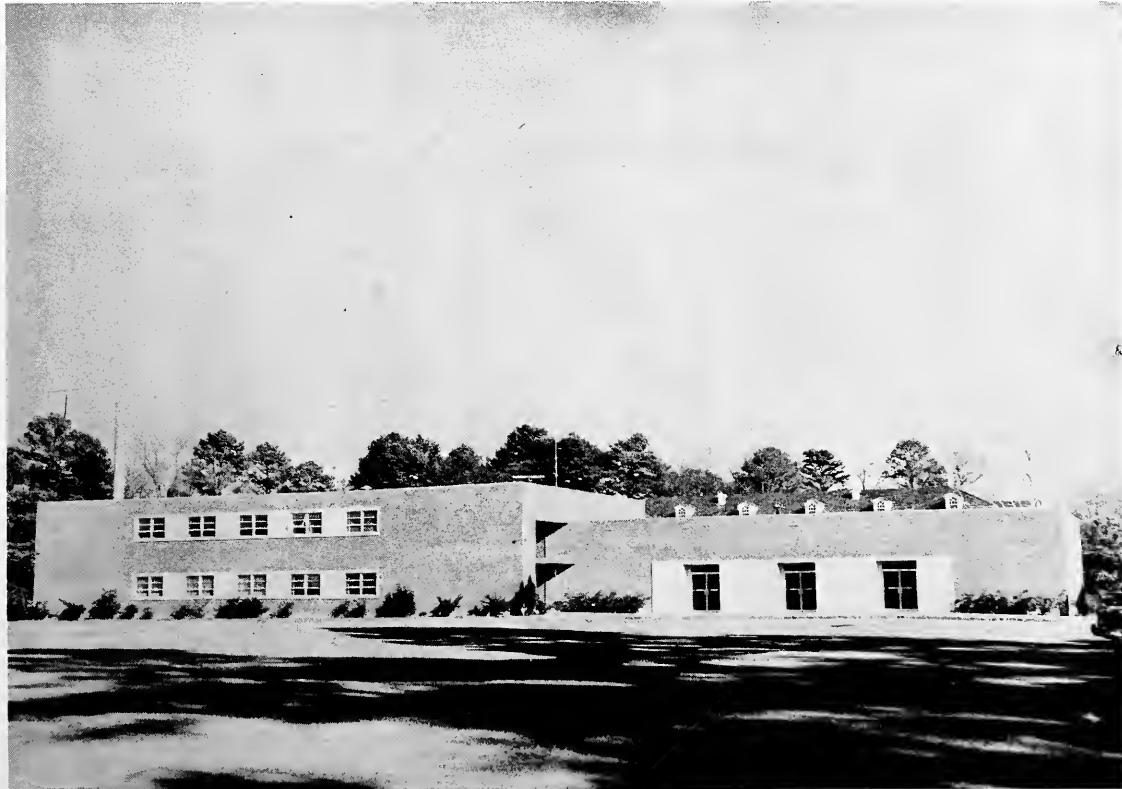

This is a large, three-story building which contains administrative offices, classrooms, an auditorium, the art department, the speech department, the college drama shop, and the infirmary.

STUDENT UNION . . . This setting is for young moderns, surrounded by props that are of their world and time. Here is the forming of society of students in a new and completely air-conditioned building. It contains a bookstore, a main lounge, post office, telephone booths, a cloakroom, and a kitchenette on the first floor. Upstairs are additional lounges, game rooms, and organizational rooms.

COLLEGE HALL

STUDENT UNION

McELHANNON HALL

McELHANNON HALL . . . In this science-fiction setting we're searching for knowledge of unknowns. We are creating a keen awareness of the world around us. Upon this setting the picture unfolds. This is one of the most up-to-date science halls in the state. It is a large three-story building equipped with modern apparatus, providing accommodations for the departments of mathematics, biology, physics, and chemistry.

EVANS HALL . . . Within this two-story brick structure we gain a background for the classic scenes of our lives. We are taught how to better plan the play of our life by viewing the best that others have created in the fields of philosophy, social science, language and literature. This building is the scene of such subjects as English, education, and history. It contains several offices and an audio-visual auditorium.

EVANS HALL

KEY HALL . . . Under the direction of competent directors we are trained for careers as conductors, concert artists, and teachers. This is a three-story brick building which houses the department of music and the sorority rooms. Studios and practice rooms located in this building are well furnished and are equipped with new pianos.

PROCTOR HALL . . . Lights and action are the themes of Proctor Hall, as the young ladies of the campus prepare for their parts as homemakers of the future. Their scripts are cookbooks and dress patterns; their make-up is economy and correctness.

This building houses the home economics department. Among its facilities are a textiles and clothing laboratory, foods and nutrition laboratory, home laundry equipment, and a projection room.

PROCTOR HALL

Here We Build Our Bodies . . .

HAYGOOD HALL

HAYGOOD HALL . . . Of sound mind, of sound spirit, and of sound body are the criteria of any actor. Only by building strong bodies and understanding of our bodies' abilities can we really know our aptitudes.

The Haygood athletic field is a composite of a turtleback grid field surrounded by a cinder track and stadium stands which seat about five thousand people.

DAY ARMORY . . . Men are trained for future roles as defenders of our country. Where honor is performed with wisdom, valor is the way of life and courage is a practiced art.

This building, completed in 1945, contains a modern rifle range, band room, film rooms, and offices. The gymnasium is a wing of the armory and is equipped so that it can be used as an auditorium. It provides a basketball floor with bleachers capable of seating two thousand spectators.

DAY ARMORY

CADDO CENTER

CADDO CENTER . . . In this building we find the machinery that keeps the stagehands, actors, actresses, and directors operating. Within these pleasant surroundings, we find nourishment for our bodies so that we may perform at our peak. It is a red brick building, located adjacent to the residence halls, which contains a large modern cafeteria, a private dining room, and a student lounge.

FIELD HOUSE . . . This is the stage for aspiring young athletes. They learn finer points of the game during many sessions of scrimmage and skull practice. It is a modern brick building, equipped with showers and lockers. The field house provides accommodations for the home and visiting teams.

HAYGOOD ATHLETIC FIELD AND FIELD HOUSE

Our Directors Live Here . . .

PRESIDENT'S HOME

PRESIDENT'S HOME . . . A two-story brick house of colonial design, located near the south-east corner of the campus in a beautifully landscaped setting.

FACULTY ROW . . . This includes ten new brick houses at Faculty Place just off Huddleston Street, three duplexes on Huddleston, and a cottage. These offer college-owned, on-campus housing facilities for a limited number of faculty members.

FACULTY ROW

We Are Trained For The Future . . .

ARKANSAS HALL MUSEUM . . . Located on the top floor of Arkansas Hall. Here Nancy Pate and Brown Hardman are shown looking at one of the many exhibits of interest to the students. It also contains a large storage room.

LISTENING ROOM . . . Located also on second floor of Arkansas Hall directly behind the museum. Nancy Pate and Beverly Brewer are enjoying the latest in hi-fi albums.

HOME MANAGEMENT HOUSE . . . This is a well-furnished two-story structure with a home-like atmosphere. Home economics majors live in this house for nine weeks during their senior year, in order that they may work out in home situations problems in management, meal planning, entertaining, home furnishing, and home budgets.

This Is Where We Live . . .

MRS. RUBY FARNSWORTH

THE DORMS—

These are the dressing rooms for the campus actors. Within these walls they practice the art of their profession, living with others, but retaining their own originality. Here our thespians practice their lives, build their background, and prepare for their performance.

GARRETT HALL—

It has thirty furnished apartments for married students. Each apartment is equipped with furniture of modern design in harmony with the varied color schemes and a combination kitchen unit. There is a laundry room on each floor.

General College

Buddy Tatum—Henderson Freshman—surveys the General College.

Thursday morning Institutions tests . . . humanities lectures . . . panels in human relations . . . field trips in physical science . . . are some scenes which make up this act. The theme is general education, for it is through the general college that such is obtained. The faculty of the General College is charged with the orientation, guidance and basic studies of students during their first two years of college. The aim of this division is to provide a non-vocational, unspecialized education common to the well-informed person in our society. The basic courses of the General College are arranged to emphasize primary skills first and to present certain fundamental understandings in a fashion which will greatly broaden student outlook and prepare him to continue his education and life at the level of high achievement.

Human Relations panel discusses one of the many problems that confront college freshmen.

Dr. Charles M. Strack
Dean of the General College

Mr. Jones explains a technical problem to his students in Physical Science.

Miss Sherrod's 10 o'clock Humanities class is receiving a lecture on Renaissance art.

Mr. Sunkel is giving a helpful pointer.

Art exhibits . . . mobiles . . . costume designing . . . house furnishing . . . the booth at the AEA convention . . . are some of the scenes which appear on this stage. This division basically serves three groups of students: those desiring a Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in art, those majoring in home economics, and those desiring to learn more about art for their personal enjoyment.

Division of Art

Mr. Sunkel inspects as his students industriously work.

These students are making Christmas mobiles.

Division of Biological Sciences

Dissection proves to be interesting.

Lab . . . microscope . . . field trips . . . work with others on this production. Through a study of the biology courses, each student is given a broader understanding of the phenomena of nature. Courses are designed for the general student, the pre-professional student, and the future science teacher.

Division of Education and Psychology

Student NEA . . . practice teachers . . . field trip to Dallas . . . the "block" . . . psychology lectures . . . are scenes in the act presented by the Division of Education and Psychology. This division includes major and minor sequences of education, and guidance and the general field of psychology. The students in education determine the calibre of tomorrow's mind-builders. Psychology courses are also offered for those students who do not wish to teach.

Division of Home Economics

Sylvia Gipson assumes duties of homemaker while staying in the Home Management House.

Nursery school . . . Colhecon . . . style shows . . . the garment that must be finished by Monday . . . act in this scene. The Division of Home Economics is primarily a training program for vocational homemaking teachers. However, there are many non-majors that select courses in this division. The Home Economics major includes courses in foods and nutrition, clothing, textiles, child development and family relationships, housing, house furnishing, and home management.

Division of Language and Literature

Play productions . . . French songs . . . speech interpretations . . . included in this scene. In the several departments of the Language and Literature Division, each instructor teaches certain fundamental principles, rules, facts, and techniques; yet all of them try to achieve the same goal—production of well-adjusted graduates who can read, write, speak, listen, and interpret more effectively. At the same time the instructors try to emphasize the importance of learning to think more intelligently, more objectively, and more logically. Stimulated by the courses of this division, many better prepared graduates go forth in quest of positions as teachers, librarians, speech therapists, writers, and editors.

Division of Mathematics

A Mathematics class views prisms.

Calculus . . . Algebra . . . Miss Foster's exams . . . are elements of this scene. The painfully uncolorful setting for the Math scene is the only conception many have of this division; but, in its many-fold aspects, math is actually the stepping stone of all sciences on which depend our present civilization and our hopes for the future. The Mathematics Division offers more than a dozen courses to meet the needs of students planning to teach, to transfer to other professional and technical institutions, or to acquire understanding of the nature and function of Math as a useful tool for progress in other fields.

The Reserve Officers Training Corps exists for the purpose of developing officers—leaders of men. Its mission is to have ready in time of national emergency a corps of educated, well-rounded leaders for our armies. Specifically, the ROTC program at this college trains Henderson students so that they can qualify upon graduation as commissioned officers in the Army of the United States. As an officer training course, ROTC is a four-year college program, divided into a two-year basic course and a two-year advanced course. The four-year course prepares young men for positions of command and develops in them the essential knowledge and the characteristics of an officer.

Who's Who

WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES is composed of students from 700 colleges and universities. The campus nominating committees consider the student's scholarship, his participation and leadership in academic and extracurricular activities, his citizenship and service to the school, and his promise of future usefulness, in making their selections. It provides a placement or reference service to assist seniors and graduates seeking employment. It also awards each member a certificate of recognition, presented either at graduation or earlier in the year.

Final Judging for Queen

From the twenty semifinalists chosen by popular vote of the Student Body, five finalists were selected to appear for the judging on October 11. The day began at 10:30 a. m. with a coffee for the judges and finalists. Kaye Gatlin, editor of the STAR, presided over the day's activities. Judges were Mr. George Gunn, minister of the First Presbyterian Church; Mrs. Gene Hastings, manager of Cohen's Fashion Shop in Pine Bluff; Mr. P. H. Raybon, head of the Art Department at Ouachita College.

The girls left at 11:30 to change for lunch. At 12:30, they began to assemble in the private dining room of the Caddo Center. Here the judges and finalists, Miss Gatlin and Mr. J. W. Coley, adviser to the STAR, met for an informal luncheon. After lunch, they adjourned until 12:30.

At 2:30, they met in the Student Union Ballroom in formals. They were judged on poise, beauty, and personality. They were each asked two questions. From this and the preceding events of the day, the Queen was chosen.

To provide an organization of students and faculty members united by a common loyalty to Jesus Christ; to seek to promote a Christian atmosphere on the campus through worship, study, and action; to improve the spiritual life of the student, and to help link his spiritual thoughts with everyday problems and world happenings are the purposes of the Student Christian Association. The SCA, as it is commonly called, is a non-denominational, international organization.

The Association meets each Tuesday at 7 p. m. in the Laura Lee Henson Room, and sponsors morning devotionals at 7:45 each morning Monday through Friday for all who wish to attend. At the beginning of each school year the group sponsors a party for old and new students. The highlight of the SCA year is Religious Emphasis Week, this year being held February 2 through February 5. During this week, an outside speaker is invited to the campus, and is featured everyday in talks, discussion groups, and general "bull sessions."

The group cooperates in projects of the Christian Association beyond the campus and sponsors World University Service. It is the only religious organization on the campus and is open to students and faculty members. Membership of SCA reached a new high this year, making it the largest organization on campus, and the "Heart of the School with a Heart."

Pershing Rifles

The National Honorary Military Society of Pershing Rifles was founded in 1894 at the University of Nebraska by General John J. Pershing. Their purpose is to create a desire among the first two year ROTC students to further their military training by enrolling in the Advance Course ROTC.

Organization of the Pershing Rifles Company here at Henderson was first begun in October, 1958. Through much hard work on the part of everyone concerned, we were installed as a member of the National Society of Pershing Rifles on February 13, 1959.

In the near future this company hopes to have a drill team, machine gun team, and several other teams with which to compete in the regimental and national assemblies throughout the United States.

At present we have a total of 18 members and eight pledges.

Independent Students Association

To enable the independent students to participate in college activities as a recognized group; to enrich the social life among students not affiliated with other groups; to encourage and develop leadership on the part of the independents; and to utilize the untapped resources of independent students through the actions of a democratic organization is the purpose of the Independent Student Association. In this way, the association hopes to promote better school spirit at Henderson.

The 1959 Star

The coffee was becoming stronger and the hours longer. Soon the night became wee hours of morning. The smoke-filled room with its sea of expressionless faces was saturated with all the tension of a Shakespearean tragedy. On each face one could read the blanket statement; "This is the last deadline." Through the haze, bleary-eyed, they began to fold the last pages. Finally—it was finished!! Some sank wearily into their chairs, smiling. The last smile faded as the editor, Kaye Gatlin, packed the pages into the "Duz Soap" box for shipment.

Kaye Gatlin, a sophomore editor, had nurtured it from an 89c looseleaf notebook to a completed annual.

The work was started in June, and with the coming of the fall was shared with Glynda Allison and Carleen Harris, the assistant editors.

Many thanks go to the staff for a job well done. Each was indispensable in his own way. Frances Smith, art editor, who took the not quite clear ideas and made breakpages. Willie Webb and Bill Schooley, business managers, for the hours spent pounding the ad beats. Judy Bell and Burle Haggard for never losing patience when the sororities and fraternities Reddie Day Skit pictures could not be found. Don't forget Linda Burnett, organizational editor, who almost became a night owl during exam week because the organizations had to be sent in. Then Cathy Crews and Margaret Boschetti, who drew class pages, almost in their dreams. Sybil Todd and Ellen Ohls, divisional editors, who hounded the head of each division for copy until they gave up in self defense. Those men of many talents, Charles Gibbs and Buddy Laing, for being on-the-spot sports editors. And most of all the photographers, Buddy Tatum and Curtis Atkinson, who spent many late and early hours in the dark room printing the day's take and those last minute rush orders.

Alpha Sigma Alpha

MARY WILKERSON
President

The Beta Mu chapter of Alpha Sigma Alpha strives to foster close relationships and lasting friendships among the members. The social activities of the organization include two lake parties in Hot Springs, the annual Mother-Daughter Banquet, a party in honor of the pledges, and the Pan-Hellenic Dance. This year the chapter has re-decorated the sorority room. Their philanthropic project is buying birthday gifts for orphans in the state.

The Alpha Sig Reddie Day skit won second prize in the Greek division.

"Alpha Sigma Alpha Paradise" was the title of the rush party.

The Alpha Sig Homecoming exhibit honored the alumni of Henderson.

Alpha Sigma Tau

CARLEEN HARRIS
President

Carleen Harris, Alpha Gamma's representative to the national convention held this summer in Buffalo, New York, was elected Queen of the Convention.

The Alpha Gamma chapter of Alpha Sigma Tau sorority was founded on the Henderson campus in 1946. Alpha Sigma Tau was founded in 1899 and is a member of National Pan-Hellenic. Pine Mountain settlement for needy children and Penland are two of the philanthropic projects of the sorority. The activities of the Alpha Gamma chapter include participation in Homecoming and Reddie Day, an Initiation Banquet, and a spring and summer lake party.

The Alpha Sigma Tau exhibit won grand prize in the Homecoming competition.

"Taus Are Busting Out All Over" was one number in the Formal Rush Party held in the fall.

Your life as a college student is limited too much if God is left out. For this reason the churches of Arkadelphia strongly urge all students to regularly attend services.

As the old saying goes, all good things must come to an end and the '59 STAR is no exception. You now hold in your hands a complete report of the school activities of this past year.

I would like to extend my sincerest thanks to the faculty and student body for giving to me their utmost cooperation. Also, I would like to thank the staff for their work and commend them for the many hours they unselfishly gave up for the publication of this yearbook.

It is my earnest hope that the '59 STAR will leave a few pleasant memories in the minds of all of you, and that you enjoy this edition as much as we have enjoyed piecing it together. To you we have presented—for your approval—THE 1959 STAR.
